EVENTS

Faith Among Black Americans

Friday, March 12, 2:30-4:00 pm EST

The new Pew Research Center study, Faith Among Black Americans, examines a wide range of religious experiences, including congregational life, personal religious beliefs and practices, and the role of religious beliefs and institutions in public life. With over 8,000 Black American respondents, the survey is large enough to examine the rich diversity of Black religious experiences, including African immigrants, Black Catholics, young adults, religious unaffiliated Black Americans, as well as partisan and gender differences. In addition, the study incorporated focus groups and interviews with clergy to offer more depth and nuance to the findings.

Moderator

R. Khari Brown, PhD, SSSR President-Elect and associate professor of sociology at Wayne State University

Panelists

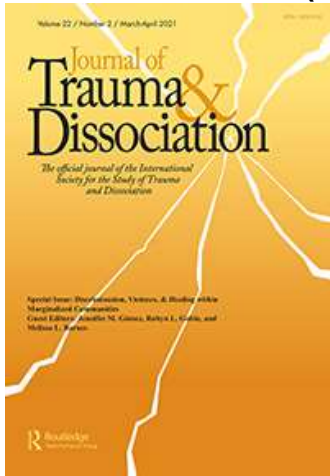

Besheer Mohamed, PhD, senior researcher at Pew Research Center and the lead researcher of the project
Kiana Cox, PhD, research associate at Pew Research Center focusing on race and religion

Ryon Cobb, PhD, (2021 MCUAAAAR Scientist) assistant professor of sociology at the University of Georgia
F. Willis Johnson, DMin, fellow at Bridge Alliance Foundation and Walker Leadership Institute, Eden Seminary; adjunct faculty at Methodist Theological School of Ohio and pastor of Living Tree Church (Columbus, OH)

The event is free, but registration is required: https://us02web.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_hrbgl2RsSN-JLGQncBmajQ
